Description

Mixed media mounted on white board inside plexi box. Central subject is a large red heart surrounded with three dimensional red hearts and two hearts dangling from the central heart. Above the central red heart is a clear plastic male, nude figure showing heart, lungs, and kidney /bladder system. Positioned in the center of the work is a large red heart. Within the large red heart is a white rectangle with a pair of red lips. Centered below the box-like structure holding this heart are two dangling red hearts. These frame a cross section of an anatomical heart showing four chambers. Completing the piece at the bottom of the composition is the exterior of an anatomical heart.
