

Stonehenge Series, No. 20

Date

before 1969

Primary Maker

Ralph Pardington

Medium

ceramic and wood

Description

Four ceramic square-like shapes are mounted upon a vertical pillar of wood. The two largest square shapes sit next to one another on the wooden base while the two small squares sit on top of each of the larger pieces. All four of the square-like shapes are white in color and have a single band of beige on each one. The wooden base is stained in a dark tone and has wide bands of the grain.

Dimensions

32 × 14 3/8 × 9 in. (81.3 × 36.5 × 22.9 cm)