Description

Large expanse of blue sky with orange-tinted clouds along bottom of composition. Text with white letters at top reads: I think there is just too much negative space in all that sky. I would crop most of it out. Make it a panel. Text with white letters at bottom reads: The composition is weak and there is just too much negative space on the top. Also the colors, they look pretty washed up to me too. I think they would need a tweak in there and maybe some more contrast wouldn't hurt.
