Description

Landscape of a building at the water's edge with a flower garden in the foreground. There is a path leading from the lower right corner which disappears into the flower garden which has flowers in pink, purple, red and yellow. There appears to be another path or road that runs along the water's edge next to the mill. Tall pink flowers frame the view of the mill, which has orange walls and a pink roof. There is a window in the side of the mill and the roof of the mill has two windows on either side of a chimney. There is a white house with a red roof in the distance across the water
