Landscape of rock formations, fields, and rolling hills in the background. Grey rock formations occupy the foreground. green plants with pink flowers grow among the rocks and a path or brown riverbed cuts across the bottom right edge between the rocks towards the center of the composition. The mid-background is a green field in the center and hill on the right, with dark green trees. A pink field sits behind that, and gray-blue hills behind that in the furthest background. The sky is mostly filled with white clouds, with just a few spots of bright blue near the top edge.
