Description

At center is a commercial sign for the Ideal Motel, raised on two poles stuck into a long piece of wood. On top is a green section with the word "Ideal" in script and below is a red section with the word "Motel" in block letters. Behind the sign is a white building and a tall tree that fills most of the blue sky. The landscape is otherwise fairly barren and brown through another tree and building are visible in the far left background.
