Description

Matted landscape with two orange and brown spires of rock in the upper left. The sky is blue with lighter blue clouds. A large orange, yellow, and brown mountain dominates the upper right. The base of the mountain is light orange-yellow which transitions to green in the lower third of the paper. A peach path outlined in orange runs from the left (about one third of the page from the bottom) to the lower right corner. Dark green bushes dot the grass, more densely on the right than on the left.
